MOUNT ETNA AGAIN SPOUTING FIRE AND LAVA

Redhot Stream Flowing Down Mountain and Ruining Homes and Vineyards.

12 NEW CRATERS OPENED

Inhabitants of Borrello Flee in Terror Detonations Cause Ground to Tremble.

CATANIA, Sicily, March 24.—Mount Etna is again in a state of violent activity. A pronounced movement in the crater began last night, steadily increasing in volume and tonight gravest fears are entertained as to the results if the eruption continues in its present violent form. Twelve new craters have opened.

From Catania a correspondent motored in the direction of the mountain. Beyond the village of Mascalucia, 12 miles in a direct line from the crater, a thick curtain of smoke was encountered which entirely concealed Etna.

At Nicolosi, 10 miles from the crater, the entire population had gathered in the square, to watch the volcano which appeared as a black phantom above. Now and then it was illuminated with flashes of light appearing almost red. Higher up the rain of cinders became thicker and extended like a veil across the mountain. A deep roaring was heard and detonations like the sound of artillery followed one another in quick succession, while the earth shook under foot.

One of the guides cried "An earthquake," and could hardly be induced to continue. Hot cinders covered the ground like a thick carpet, making walking difficult.

Red Hot Stream of Lava

A peasant was encountered coming down. He said: "The fire is rushing down, burning everything. The lava is like a red hot river."

Proceeding a little further four colossal columns of smoke could be seen. Occasionally they were cut by flashes of fire, presenting an awe-inspiring spectacle. Then the wind opened the clouds for a moment and a wide strip of fire could be seen in the distance, advancing with monstrous contortions. It fell like a torrent from Mount Capriole, spreading out in the valley below.

The lava flow had already reached vineyards above San Leo and Rinazzo, seven miles from the crater, and had buried many peasant houses. It came in several streams and united in one great mass about 20 feet high and 1,500 feet wide. Its velocity was estimated at three to four feet a minute, varying according to the condition of the ground. This might wall of lava was today not more than five miles from Belpasso and Nicolosi.

The meteorological station on the mountainside has been destroyed and the village of Borrello is in serious danger.

People Flee in Terror.

The people, terror stricken are fleeing from their homes. Earth shocks have reached about 50 in number, but there is a continuous vibration and trembling for many miles. Everywhere villagers are carrying images in procession and imploring mercy.

Help for the people of the devastated region is being organized here. A detachment of soldiers and a large number of engineers and doctors have gone forward.

The prefect of Catania returning from the scene tonight said: "I have witnessed a spectacle of desolation and ruin which only those who saw the eruption of Vesuvius in 1906 can imagine. The present eruption can be compared to no other."

ROOSEVELT'S HOTEL BESIEGED BY CROWD

CAIRO ENTHUSIASTIC OVER EX-PRESIDENT'S VISIT.

He Declines Police Escort—Exchanges Calls With Khedive Sees Sphinx by Moonlight.

CAIRO, Egypt, March 24.—Colonel Roosevelt's visit excites such interest here, not only among the many Americans who have arrived at Cairo purposely to see the ex-President, but among the populace generally, that he is taking measures to avoid demonstrations.

Great crowds gathered about the entrance of Shepherd's hotel, where the Roosevelts are quartered, and twice today Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt were compelled to leave the building by the garden entrance to keep away from the enthusiastic people.

Half an hour was spent this afternoon in conversation with the khedive at Abdin palace, the khedive showing the keenest interest in Colonel Roosevelt's hunting tour. Politics was not discussed, but there was an exchange of views on irrigation and agriculture. The conversation was conducted in English.

In the meantime the khedivah received Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Ethel with many marks of distinction. Coffee was served in gold cups encrusted with diamonds. The khedivah began the conversation in French and it was carried on in that language. She was particularly desirous of information concerning the position of women in America.

The khedive returned the ex-President's visit at the American agency, where he remained some time. The exchange of visits has given the greatest pleasure to both.

In the evening the Roosevelt party went by automobile to the Mena house, which is close to the pyramids, to spend the night and see the sphinx by moonlight.

Refuses Police Guard.

The fact that articles have appeared recently in some of the newspaper organs of the "Young Egypt party" attacking Colonel Roosevelt on account of his speeches at Khartum, in which he emphasized benefits of British rule in the Sudan led to apprehension that there might be unpleasant demonstrations, but Colonel Roosevelt has declined the offer of police protection and the premier and other officials are convinced there is nothing to fear.

The premier says there is no evidence that the assassination of his predecessor, Boutros Pacha Ghali, on February 21 last, was anything but the action of an individual; that no sign of a plot or conspiracy has been disclosed. He added that the government would promptly check any dangerous language in the nationalist papers.

To Confer With Straus.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Oscar Straus, ambassador to Constantinople, left that city March 8 on the Scorpion of the navy for Cairo, where he is to have a long conference with former President Roosevelt. It was learned today Mr. Straus' trip was in answer to a cable message from Colonel Roosevelt requesting the conference. Mr. Straus was secretary of commerce and labor in the last few years of the Roosevelt administration and was always close to Mr. Roosevelt and likewise a warm friend of Mr. Taft.

BERLIN, March 24.—Ex-President Roosevelt is to be the emperor's personal guest at the palace in Berlin from May 12 to May 15.

BERNE, Switzerland, March 24.—According to today's papers former President Roosevelt while en route to Paris will stop at Berne April 18, and will be received by President Robert Comtesse.

LONDON, March 24.—Theodore Roosevelt will sail from Southampton for home on June 10. Passage was engaged today.

STAYS PIEL'S EXECUTION

DENVER, March 24.—The supreme court today issued a stay of execution in the case of Fred Piel who was to have been hanged at Canon City in the week beginning April 3, for killing an Italian at Fort Collins.

CANON SITUATION IS MISREPRESENTED

TELEGRAPH'S STORY WITHOUT FOUNDATION.

City Officials and Members of Park Commission Ridicule Story Published Last Night.

Much amusement was manifested among various city officials and members of the park board yesterday when they read the story in the Telegraph to the effect that there was uneasiness regarding the legality of the purchase of South Cheyenne canon by the city, if consummated. Without exception, they branded the story as absurd, and were unable to say why any paper looking to the development of the city would use such an item, based, as they claim, on no foundation whatever.

City Attorney McKesson, when asked about the story last night, stated that he had had no conference with the Mayor regarding the legality of the purchase, nor has he made exhaustive inquiries, having left that to the attorneys employed by the park commission.

Not Fairly Quoted.

Mayor Avery stated last night that while he had not read the story, it would appear, from what he had heard, that only parts of his talk were used, and the other and more important parts left out. Regarding the legal end of it, he stated that that was a subject left to the city attorney and the attorneys for the park commission, and that they would doubtless not advise an election unless it was perfectly legal.

Secretary van Diest of the park commission said that most of the "fine points" brought out in the story were all new to him. He referred his questioner to the statement given out by the park commission early in February when it was decided to purchase the canon, which explains fully all points regarding the matter and contains all of the details.

He emphatically denied the statement that lawyers and members of the park commission have personally called upon prominent bankers and personally guaranteed the validity of the bonds.

Water Rights Safe

Exception is also taken to the statement that schemers might try to impose on the city by threatening to file on the water rights above the falls and then pipe the water around the falls and thus extort money. In explanation of this it is stated that the water [illegible] of the falls is safe guarded [illegible] water rights of the Broad[illegible] company. City Attorney McKesson has prepared the ordinance on the question of issuing bonds for the purchase of the property and this will probably be introduced in the City Council at its meeting this morning.

MANY FARMS RAVAGED BY BIG PRAIRIE FIRES

Flames Sweep Over Large Areas in Kansas, Nebraska and South Dakota

OGALLAH, Kan., March 24.—A prairie fire raged for several hours in Trego county last night, burning over 50 square miles and destroying thousands of dollars' worth of farm property. Ogallah and several other small towns were saved only after a heroic fight.

ABILENE, Kan., March 24.—A prairie fire that started yesterday afternoon near the railroad tracks four miles west of Abilene and burned north was checked by farmers early today but not until nine farms had been swept clean and much small stock killed. The loss will reach $50,000.

ALLIANCE, Neb., March 24.—Reports received at 6 o'clock tonight from towns along the Burlington railroad east of here show that prairie fires are raging in Hooker, Thomas and Blaine counties. The fire front extends nearly 15 miles and is driven by a heavy wind.

The government forest reserve on the Dismal river suffered severely from the fire. Fifty foresters fought the flames for 24 hours, but were unable to prevent them destroying a large section of the reserve.

This reserve is an experiment which the government is making in pine forestry in the sand hill country and has been under cultivation for several years. The forestry service has spent a great amount of money on the project which thus far has been successful.

Tonight the fire is known to have covered an area exceeding 300 square miles. Several large herds of cattle have been stampeded and many lost. The [illegible] equipment of several ranches has been destroyed.

PIERRE, S. D., March 24.—Two prairie fires did heavy damage in the gale that swept the state yesterday and last night. A strip of country two miles wide and ten miles long in western Sully county was burned over, barns, sheds, outbuildings and farm machinery being totally destroyed.

BUCKLEY BOASTFUL OF HIS INFLUENCE

HIS CAREER AS LEGISLATIVE AGENT AT ALBANY.

Able to Learn in Advance a Court Decision.—A Judge Drawn Into Insurance Inquiry.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Bit by bit there was unfolded at the fire insurance inquiry today the story of the career of William H. Buckley, Albany lawyer, who for years was a legislative agent for the fire insurance companies.

On the face of the documentary evidence produced Buckley was well-nigh invincible at Albany. If the letters that were entered on the records contained statements of fact—and for the most part they were letters exchanged between Buckley and the late George P. Sheldon, who was president of the Phenix Fire Insurance company of Brooklyn—Buckley's power with the legislature was well worth the money he admits he received.

Buckley's influence at Albany went even further, according to his own words, to Sheldon. He was able to learn in advance a decision of the court of appeals, he said, and would keep Sheldon informed as to what was coming off in court.

Miles M. Dawson, a consulting actuary of New York, said under oath that Buckley had informed him that he could not get favorable action on a bill in which he was interested unless he paid some money to the "boys."

When evidence was produced showing that E. E. McCall, now a state supreme court justice had written Buckley's name above his own on a check for $35,000, which was one of the three loans made by the Phenix Fire Insurance company of Brooklyn through Sheldon to Buckley, the latter became greatly aroused. He said Mr. McCall knew nothing at all of the transaction and had merely acted in the matter at his request. He had admitted that he had not indorsed the check and identified the handwriting in which his name was written as that of Justice McCall. Mr. Hotchkiss said he would be glad to have the matter cleared up by the justice, but did not say that he would ask him to appear as a witness.

When seen this afternoon Justice McCall said he did not care to discuss the insurance inquiry except to say that he never had any relations or transactions whatever with Mr. Sheldon, with his company, or with any fire insurance company except the Munich. He said he was retained as counsel for the Munich company for about three years.

Henry Evans, president of the Continental Fire Insurance company, was on the stand today long enough to say he contributed $2,500 to a fund Sheldon raised in 1903 to defeat legislation adverse to the companies.

DES MOINES LOSES FIGHT FOR REDUCTION OF RATES

WASHINGTON, March 24.—The city of Des Moines, Ia., today lost its fight for a readjustment of freight rates from that city to points in western Minnesota and North and South Dakota, when the interstate commerce commission refused the petition of the Greater Des Moines committee. The committee contended that, because Des Moines was nearer to the territory in question than Chicago, St. Louis, Dubuque, Davenport, Clinton, Muscatine, and Burlington, it was entitled to an advantage in rates.

BRIBETAKER FAINTS AS HE CONFESSES

PITTSBURG COURT IS BUSY WITH GRAFT CASES.

Six More Councilmen Acknowledge Guilt—Others Will Fight the Change

PITTSBURG, March 24.—Confessions of six councilmen who appeared before Judge Fraser today were accompanied by sensations. The climax came when George B. Anderson, a former select councilman, fainted as the court asked him if he had ever received money for his vote.

Before the judge could finish his question Anderson had fallen backwards striking his head forcibly on the floor. Attendants and attorneys rushed to his aid and when [illegible] [illegible] the affirmative.

Robert K. Cochrane, formerly a member of councils, admitted receiving $500 to vote for the bank depository ordinance and $300 for the ordinance vacating South Seventh street. Judge Fraser wanted to know how it came that he received so much for voting for these measures while other councilmen received much less.

Cochrane was unable to make a satisfactory explanation. He insisted that he had distributed none of the money. Judge Fraser reminded Cochrane that this was a serious matter and he would have to take the case under consideration. No suspension of sentence was granted and Cochrane left the court room.

William Brand, former president of common council, whose statement to the district attorney was unsatisfactory, had his liberty cut short. He was sent to the penitentiary to begin serving the 18 months for bribery on which he was convicted some months ago. District Attorney Blakely insists Brand did not tell the whole truth, and that he was shielding some one.

The district attorney had the names of the persons Brand is charged with shielding but Brand would not give up the desired information. The confessions of Wisson and Klein cover these points, however, to the prosecutor.

Former Councilman John Taylor who was implicated in the graft scandal by Dr. W. H. Weber, brought suit against Weber today for $25,000 damages. Taylor has made a public denial and says Weber's statement is untrue.

Indicted councilmen today began to come forward and give bonds in court for their appearance, signifying they are going to put up a fight for freedom.

TWELVE RIOTERS INDICTED

CAIRO, Ill., March 24.—Twelve indictments for rioting were returned this afternoon by the special grand jury that has been investigating the attack on the Alexander county jail February 17, in which one man in the mob was killed and several injured.

Those indicted are: George B. Walker, newspaper man, Frank Gorman, an alderman, James Davidge, a constable, C. C. Foster, former deputy circuit clerk, Lee Watson, stock dealer, Samuel Wessinger, special agent of the Big Four railroad and deputy sheriff, W. H. Simpson, manager of a lumber company, James Casey, former policeman, J. B. Scott, blacksmith, W. C. Charles, liveryman, O. P. Hurd, Jr., president of a lumber company, John Maloney, wagon manufacturer.

The 12 were released on bonds. Their trial has been set for May 9 and funds for their defense will be raised by popular subscription.

The indictments caused a sensation as no such drastic action was anticipated.

A fine of $500 and six months imprisonment is possible in cases of conviction.

The mob was formed while trying to take John Pratt, a negro purse snatcher, from jail.

The grand jury is not through with its investigation and further indictments may be returned.

MINORITY MEMBERS OF COMMITTEE ON RULES NAMED

CAUCUS IS PEACEFUL

House Votes to Abolish Pension Agencies—Senate Discusses Baths and Health.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Without scarcely the semblance of a struggle, the Democratic members of the House tonight nominated the four minority members of the enlarged rules committee as follows:

Champ Clark, of Missouri, 125 votes.
Oscar Underwood, Alabama, 102.
Lincoln Dixon, Indiana, 99.
John J. Fitzgerald, New York, 98.

A long list of candidates received scattering votes. Representative Slayden of Texas received 69, the highest number given to an unsuccessful aspirant. The total vote of the caucus was 140 and the number necessary to elect was 71.

The expected fight on Representative Fitzgerald for his attitude on the rules at the beginning of the present Congress when he, with 23 other Democrats, left the leadership of Champ Clark and voted with the Republicans, materialized early in the meeting but failed of any definite result.

Representative Sims of Tennessee headed the faction that opposed the selection of Fitzgerald, and introduced a resolution proposing to instruct Democratic members to support a resolution to provide for the election by the House of a committee to select all the standing committees. The power of selection is now vested in the speaker.

The maximum strength shown by the followers of Sims was 39, which they polled against a motion to adjourn. The Sims resolution did not come to a vote as a motion to adjourn was passed before he had an opportunity to get it up for consideration.

When the caucus adjourned Mr. Sims announced he would circulate a call for another caucus to consider the subject of his resolution. Only 25 signatures under the rules are required to compel the holding of another caucus.

House Passes Pension Bill.

The pension bill, carrying appropriations of about $156,000,000, was passed by the House today. Nearly the entire session was occupied by a contest made by Republicans against the provision of the measure, as reported from the committee on pensions, for the abolition of the pension agencies now in operation throughout the country. By a vote of 76 to 94 the House refused to overrule recommendations of the committee. The committee was sustained chiefly by Democratic votes.

Insurgent Norris of Nebraska figured in the House today as a regular, while he derided his late opponents the regulars—for having joined the insurgents. The Nebraskan spoke in support of the provision of the pension appropriation bill for the abolition of pension agencies, as reported to the House by the committee on pensions.

Currier of New Hampshire, Alexander of New York, Boutell of Illinois and Dalzell of Pennsylvania were among the Republicans who strenuously fought the regular organization of the House as represented by the committee on pensions, in their efforts to overturn the report of that committee and continue the pension agencies.

Insurgent Norris presided over the House for a short time today while the pension appropriation bill was under consideration. Mr. Prince of Illinois, who was presiding while the House was in committee of the whole, wished to be excused for a few minutes, beckoned to Mr. Norris, who

FAVOR IMPORTATION OF AFRICAN GAME AS SOLUTION OF FOOD SUPPLY PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Introduction of the hippopotamus, the rhinoceros, the camel, the eland, the springbok, the trekbok, the dikdik, the coo-doo, the giraffe and other African animals into America as a solution of the problem of food supply was suggested by speakers before the House committee on agriculture today.

Captain Fritz Duquesne, a Boer, W. N. Erwin of the bureau of plant industry of the department of agriculture, and Major Burnham, who has spent years in Africa and who accompanied former President Roosevelt on part of his travels, argued in favor of the Broussard bill to import wild and domestic animals into the United States. Such animals, according to the bill must prove useful either as food or as beasts of burden. All the witnesses declared that many of the animals in Africa easily could be raised in this country.

"The hippopotamus can be fed and bred on a milk bottle," declared Captain Duquesne, who formerly served with the Boer army. "The zebra would in three or four generations become so tame that he would meander into your bedroom. The zebra is very sturdy and strong, as you would know if you had ever been kicked by one."

"Every desirable animal in Africa can be domesticated here," resumed the witness. "King Menelik domesticated the lion. I would not, however, recommend that here."

"There is no difficulty about the differing temperatures of Africa and America," continued Captain Duquesne. "In one place where Teddy passed through on his recent hunt the frost was this thick," and the witness indicated the thickness.

"Whom do you mean by Teddy?" asked the committee.

"Mr. Roosevelt," replied the witness. "We call him Teddy there."

HERRICK AND GARFIELD DISSATISFIED WITH TREND OF AFFAIRS AT WASHINGTON

CLEVELAND, Ohio, March 24.—The Republican administration was arraigned here tonight before the Tippecanoe club by former Governor Myron T. Herrick, who charged it with gross extravagance, and asserted that the high tariff was necessitated by the immense revenue required by unbusinesslike government methods.

Mr. Herrick was preceded by James R. Garfield, former secretary of the interior, who warned the Republican party that the country was impatient for the fulfillment of its pledges and that inaction or makeshift legislation would not be tolerated.

"Any department of the government could be run by a man who could run a bank or a factory at one-half of the cost of the present system," said Mr. Herrick.

"There has been a great outcry about the high tariff but that tariff was framed by men who knew they must have an enormous revenue to support the gross extravagance of the government. One of the greatest menaces confronting us today is the great bonded debts which in time must break down credit."

In the course of his remarks Mr. Garfield said:

"The Republican party owes its success to the fact that all its great achievements have been progressive and aggressive. While it has, in successful campaigns, urged its victory as a reason for renewed vote of confidence, it has placed its [illegible] strength on the fact that it [illegible] to the future rather than to the [illegible]

CONCESSIONS GRANTED PENNSYLVANIA MINERS

Ohio Operators Unyielding; Issue Doubtful.—Report on Scale to Be Presented Today.

CINCINNATI, O., March 24. For the first time since the miners and operators of Ohio, Indiana and western Pennsylvania went into a joint conference here more than two weeks ago, peace for at least two-thirds of those concerned appeared in sight tonight.

The scale committee reported to meet with the scale committee of the whole tomorrow and make its report. While this report was not given out officially, yet unofficially it was learned that the operators of western Pennsylvania had issued their ultimatum this afternoon, which consisted of an increase in wage of five cents per ton on pick work. Indiana is also rumored to have offered this compromise, but the report could not be verified.

Ohio operators are standing firm in opposition to any concessions.

In case the compromise is accepted, it will mean a partial victory for the miners. They made three distinct demands—10 cents per ton increase in pick work, half holidays on Saturdays and mine run system of weighing.

LAUNCH A POLITICAL PARTY

New Movement Started by Philadelphia Unions. Strike Situation Unchanged.

PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—Interest in the labor situation here centered today in the convention held by members of the labor unions to form a new political party. About 500 delegates attending the meeting, from which newspapermen were barred.

At the close of the convention it was announced that a committee of 11, headed by John J. Murphy, president of the Central Labor union, had been chosen to attend to details of organizing the new party.

A contribution of one day's pay to finance the new organization will be asked from every member. Nonunionists will be permitted to enroll after preliminary organization has been effected.

There was no change in the street car situation, both the company and the striking car men holding to their "stand pat" policy.

The company reported tonight that an increased number of cars had been operated today, and for the first time since the strike was declared the cars were run on the subway-surface lines. It was also stated that 400 green men are now under instruction.

When returning from a riot call today, a patrol wagon was badly damaged by dynamite which exploded under the vehicle. Six policemen, the driver and a sergeant were thrown to the street and badly cut and bruised. It is believed the dynamite was placed on the track by strike sympathizers for the purpose of damaging a car and that the patrol wagon figured in the explosion accidentally.

PERU AND CHILE EXCITED

Diplomatic Relations Suspended and War Talk Is Heard in Both Countries.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Advices to the state department today say that the American charge at Santiago, Chile, has taken charge of the Peruvian legation. The Peruvian minister to Chile withdrew yesterday owing to the Chilean government recently expelling some priests from the country. There is great excitement in Chile and Peru over the incident and war is feared.

United States Minister Pierpont at Santiago, reports that Chile has renewed her proposal for a plebiscite to determine whether or not the provinces of Tacna and Arica should belong to Peru or Chile but up to this time no response to the Chilean proposal has been received.

Peruvian peace is also threatened from another quarter. Ecuador is said to be excited over the anticipated ruling of the King of Spain in the boundary dispute between these two countries. Ecuador seems to have anticipated that the king's decision will be favorable to Peru and on this account the tension throughout the country is said to be great and increasing.

LOWER RATE GRANTED TO PUEBLO PACKERS

DENVER, March 24.—Pueblo packers have won an important point in their competition for the southern Colorado trade against Denver provision dealers. The state railway commission has authorized the Colorado & Southern and the Denver & Rio Grande railroads to fix a rate of 15 cents a hundred on all fresh meats shipped from Pueblo to Trinidad, and 12 cents a hundred on packing house products. The rate applies to carload lots only. The rate has heretofore been 18 cents on fresh meats and 15 cents on packing house products, which is the rate Denver shippers will have to pay.

PROTEST APPOINTMENT OF SMITH AS JUDGE

CLEVELAND, O., March 24.—Twenty-five thousand railroad employes in the state of Ohio sent a message of protest to President Taft today through M. J. Murphy, chairman of the Ohio state legislative committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, against the appointment of Alexander L. Smith of Toledo as federal judge for the Northern district of Ohio. Mr. Murphy, who is also secretary to W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen, said that 15 years ago Smith decided a case for a railroad against striking engineers. He declared that Smith had been a corporation attorney.

TIGERS TROUNCED BY SACRED HEART

DENVER SHUTS OUT COLORADO COLLEGE NINE

Poor Base Running Largely Responsible for Defeat of the Tiger Aggregation.

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, March 24.—Inability to bunch hits and poor fielding caused the defeat of the Colorado College team today by the Sacred Heart team, by the score of 6 to 0. Poor base running on the part of the Tigers many times prevented men getting on third, and only once in the game did a Tiger reach third base. Van Stone, who pitched for the Colorado College aggregation, was not effective, and was hit hard when hits meant runs, while Hossman who twirled for the local team, was able to scatter the hits, and allowed no bases on balls.

The lineup was as follows.

RAIN STOPS RACES

300-Mile Race for $6,000 Trophy on Daytonia Track Delayed by Storm.

DAYTONA, Fla., March 24.—A drenching rain marked the final day's program of the Daytonia beach automobile speed carnival, and 12,000 spectators who had come out in expectation of witnessing a repetition of yesterday's world-breaking record, went away soaked and disappointed. No records were broken, and the feature of the program—the 300-mile race for a $5,000 trophy—had to be canceled because of delay of more than an hour, caused by the storm.

In the one-mile speed record trials some fast running was witnessed, but none of the well-known racers were able to approach the record established last week by Barney Oldfield, although Oldfield himself covered the distance today in 27.86.

Summaries.

First event, 10 miles, stock chassis, 161 to 230 inches—Won by Pete Hart, in a Buick; Altman, in a Hudson, second. Time, 12:53.

Second event, 10 miles, handicap—Kercher, driving a Darracq, won; Oldfield, Knox, second; Bond, Stearns, third. Time, 7:21.

Third event, one mile, time trials—Oldfield, in his Benz, made the distance in 27.88; Ben Kercher, driving a Darracq, 27:24; Walter Christie, driving the Christie car, 35:15.

Ten-mile handicap (the second handicap at the same distance today)—Won by Altman, in a Hudson; time, 12:45; Oldfield, Knox, second; Kercher, Darracq, third.

CLASH OVER ALASKAN GOVERNMENT BILL

WASHINGTON, March 24.—There was a hot clash again today between former Governor W. B Hoggatt of Alaska and Delegate Wickersham from that territory in the meeting of the House committee on territories engaged in the consideration of the Alaskan government bill The former favors President Taft's plan of a government by commission and the latter wants a territorial form of government beyond Belpasso, and soldiers have been stationed at various points to see that these orders are obeyed. The village of Borrello is surrounded by lava and the inhabitants have fled to Belpasso.

MOUNT ETNA AGIAN SPOUTING FIRE AND LAVA

Professor Ricco, director of Mount Etna observatory, said tonight:

"The eruption is very grave and I think it will become much more serious. The lava has covered five miles in 16 hours, and if my calculations are right the eruption will not be short."

Dr. Walter Craven, an Englishman, after his return today from Nicolossi, where he made photographs of the lava, said

"Horrible detonations made the ground tremble and it was impossible to keep the camera steady more than a moment."

Many tourists, among whom Americans are conspicuous, are pouring into Catania to view the spectacle. Latest reports from Nicolossi tonight say the lava current is moving at the rate of about 100 feet an hour, and that it has passed over Mount San Lee

Cardinal Francisca Nava, archbishop of Catania, visited Nicolossi this afternoon.

Cannon Fills Vacancies

Speaker Cannon today announced the appointment of Representative Foster, Republican, from Vermont, to succeed the late Representative Perkins of New York as chairman of the committee on foreign affairs.

The chairmanship of the committee on expenditures in the department of commerce and labor made vacant by the promotion of Mr Foster, was given to Mr Gardner of Michigan, a staunch regular.

Both Mr Foster and Mr Gardner were entitled by reason of seniority to the respective chairmanships

Mr. Bennett of New York was appointed a member of the committee of foreign affairs to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mr Lovering of Massachusetts

Senators Discuss Baths

The Senate today passed the bill making appropriations for the support of the legislative, executive and judicial branches of the government The bill carries an appropriation of more than $34,000,000 But that is not the story.

The only item in the bill which aroused much discussion was one appropriating $1,800 for the payment of a masseur to officiate in the marble bath room in the new Senate building As the committee on appropriations brought in the bill it provided a force, clerical and otherwise, for the care of the building, including a janitor and many other attendants of the bath

Senator Bristow proposed to strike out the entire provision, but withdrew the bath in his remarks

Discussion developed that the bath rooms had been ordered a long time ago and that the superintendent of the building had provided attendants for them. Some senators spoke of them as necessary. Mr Bailey had doubts as to whether the senators would have any need for them Senator Sutherland said he did at home the little bathing he did, and thought if there was to be a masseur, there also should be a manicurist and a valet.

After much debate the masseur with his $1,800 salary was struck out of the bill

The Senate adopted the committee amendment to the effect that corporation reports under the tariff bill shall only be made public under the order of the President when he deems it for the public interest." At the suggestion of Senator La Follette a provision was added requiring that reports shall also be made public on call of the Senate or the House of Representatives.

The bill also an appropriation of $100,000 to cover the expense of collecting the tax.

Owen Talks About Public Health.

That 600,000 lives are sacrificed annually on the altar of this country's ignorance and neglect of sanitary laws was asserted by Senator Owen in a speech in the senate today in support of his bill creating a department of health with a cabinet officer at its head

Mr Owen's address was based on the theory that various health agencies of the government should be concentrated. He declared that with proper attention to prevention of contagion and to protection of the people against use of polluted water and impure and adulterated food, human life could be extended

In addition to the 600,000 cases of fatal illness annually, Mr. Owen asserted an average of 3,000,000 people were constantly sick with preventable disease

Mr Owen said he had been informed by an expert that 90 per cent of the children of the southern state were afflicted with the hookworm

"I don't care who the expert is," remarked Mr. Money of Missouri, "I don't believe a word of what he says"

Mr Owen having asserted that hookworms could be cured by two doses of thymol at a cost of 16 cents, Senator Heyburn suggested that there was one million dollars "now on tap" for eradication of hookworms.

Mr Owen charged there had been suppression of facts about the bubonic plague in San Francisco a few years ago and he asserted that such a course would not have been pursued if the matter had been in charge of a health bureau and not of a mere health bureau.

Replying to the Oklahoma senator Mr Gallinger expressed the opinion that the government should go slow in establishing a department of health. He thought the public health and the marine hospital service and the health departments in the various states were doing reasonably well As for the contention that the period of life could be materially lengthened, he regarded it "a dream, pure and simple"

Railroad Bill Ready.

The administration railroad bill, embodying many changes in the existing law and largely amended since its introduction in the House by Mr. Townsend, was ordered favorably reported by the House committee on interstate commerce today.

The committee split on party lines. All the Republicans voted for the bill, including Chairman Mann. The absent Republicans, under agreement, were recorded in the affirmative. Two Democrats voted against the bill and they will present a minority report.

"The bill speaks for itself," said Chairman Mann, "in addition to the creation of a commerce court it contains important provisions which add to the powers of the interstate commerce commission over the regulations, practices and rights of railways and decidedly strengthens the means adopted by the government for the regulation of the railroads It prohibits the absorption by one road or water line of a competing line except when authorized by the commerce court It forbids the issue of stocks or bonds except for legitimate purposes and at prices to be fixed by the interstate commerce commission and forbids any issue of stocks or bonds except on application to the commission"

To Investigate Subsidy Lobby.

A resolution declaring in substance that there exists a lobby for the purpose of conducting a campaign in behalf of the ship subsidy bill, and asking for the appointment of a committee to investigate the matter was adopted by the House committee on the judiciary today.

The resolution, which was introduced by Representative Steenerson of Minnesota, declares that certain publications, which are named, have made allegations that Congress has been debauched by foreign steamship interests that seek to prevent the passage of a bill to encourage American merchant marine.

Former Governor Herrick of Ohio John Hays Hammond president of the National League of Republican clubs, and R P Schwerin, vice president of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, are named in the resolution as members of the Merchant Marine league, organized to urge the passage of the ship subsidy bill

INDIANA GIVES HEARTY GREETING TO FAIRBANKS

The demonstration in honor of Mr and Mrs. Fairbanks was notable They were met at the Union station this afternoon by the committee in charge of the reception and escorted to the soldiers' and sailors' monument by soldiers from Fort Benjamin Harrison and by many citizens in automobiles. There were great crowds along the line of march and thousands of school children at the post office building.

The former vice president spoke to these briefly and then proceeded to Monument place where the formal address of welcome was delivered by Governor Marshall.

Referring to conditions which he had found abroad, especially in the east, he said:

"America is at peace with the world There is nothing that can mar the peaceful relations of the United States to the other nations of the world except our own inconceivable folly."

A reception at the Fairbanks home immediately after the public reception and a theater party tonight closed the demonstration for Mr. and Mrs. Fairbanks.

BELL HIMSELF AT FAULT

Coroner's Jury Places Responsibility for Automobile Accident on General and His Chauffeur.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—That Major General J. Franklin Bell, chief of staff of the army, and his chauffeur, Sergeant Ward of the signal corps, failed to observe proper precautions before turning their automobile in front of a trolley car, was the verdict of a coroner's jury today in the accident of yesterday, in which Mrs. Herbert J. Slocum, wife of Major Slocum of the Seventh cavalry, was almost instantly killed and General Bell himself was severely injured.

Sergeant Ward of the signal corps, who was driving the automobile, testified that General Bell was riding in the rear seat of the car with Mrs. Slocum. He said further that General Bell ordered him to cross the tracks, but whether the general saw the car coming and urged him to hurry ahead of it did not develop.

BLACK HAND MEMBER SHOT

Clothes That Compel Admiration

You've probably noticed men whose appearance compelled admiration. Their clothes were either the work of fine custom tailors or they were Adler-Rochester clothes. The difference between the two is largely in favor of the latter. For Adler-Rochester clothes are designed and made by master craftsmen—men who meet no peers. The man who seeks what is best in clothes will do well to see our Adler-Rochester stock.

That Mayor T. D. JACKSON DENIES REPORT

"The report in the Telegraph to the effect that a company, headed by Mr. Jackson and myself, and incorporated at $20,000 would begin drilling for oil shortly, and that we had had the property inspected, and were making elaborate preparations for the search for oil, is not correct," said R. J. Gwillim of the firm of Gwillim & Jackson, real estate, yesterday afternoon. "There is no foundation for the story. We have not incorporated a company, and do not intend to drill for oil."

That several Denver parties interested in the oil fields west of the city have been investigating the propositions is stated by local real estate men, who claim that "there is something in the air" in the oil question.

SUCCESS NOT DUE TO LUCK SAYS RIDDELL

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS AT EVERYONE'S DOOR.

Learn to Develop an Individuality, Is His Advice Strong Lecture Promised Tonight.

"The Psychology of Success" was the theme with which the lecturer, Newton N Riddell, entertained, instructed and inspired a large audience in the First Methodist church last night. The effort was pronounced by many the most practical and helpful, especially along utilitarian lines, of any of the series yet delivered.

Mr. Riddell said in part

Why They Succeed.

"Two young persons start out in life, one succeeds and the other fails. Why? Difference in their psychology. Two men are converted at the altar, one settles down and the highest experience he ever had is when he was converted at the altar; the other steadily rises in the spiritual life. Why? Is God different? No. The men differ in their psychology.

"God works through personalities. God's demand in this country today is for personalities who are able to be a medium of the Divine Life. All force works in the line of the least resistance. The Holy Spirit obeys this law and works in those lives who are open and alive to the Spirit. What is true in the spiritual life is equally true in all lines of activity. There are two young men one named Bill and the other Joe. Bill wins out in the battle of life, Joe fails. Why? Bill was full of activity, study and energy and when opportunity came his way he was ready for it. Some say it was all luck. Not so, the success was in Bill. There is the possibility of everyone developing a winning personality. I never knew of a man or woman who was ready for opportunity, but what opportunity came his way.

"First, if you would develop a strong personality, build a hale, hearty physique. Eat for vitality and strength not to gratify appetite. Take the proper physical exercise to develop the muscles. Breathe pure air and drink pure water. What am I saying all this for? Because your body is the temple of the Holy Spirit and you need to take care of it that the soul may find a pure medium through which to express itself. Next and closely allied to the physical organism, is energy. Learn to control your energies, and to do work with a regular systematic stroke. People wear themselves out by the spasmodic use of their energies. Next, learn to control all your emotions and feelings. The giving away to the baser emotions appetites and propensities develops toxin poisons in the blood which produce disease in the body and completely shatters the nerves.

"Learn to use your eyes. A close observing eye, a good memory and a putting-things-together head teach a good school. There are so many people who go through the schools and colleges who lack in the practical. Learn to think and keep your mind intense and active.

Develop Individuality

Above this learn to develop an individuality. How do you do this? Study your own nature and then seek to develop along the line of your strongest natural capacities and tendencies. We cramp and dwarf personality by trying to conform our lives to others, rather than in developing our own strong characteristics. Cultivate honesty. Honesty of purpose, thought and conduct. The highest priced things on the American market today is not goods, but character. O, for the man who is absolutely reliable and can be depended upon! There is room at the top. Character is what wins out and commands the price in the business world today. Next to this, learn the secret of concentration of power. Be intense; be animated, be full of enthusiasm, throw your life into things. Genius is the capacity to throw all your talents and powers into one channel."

The speaker closed his lecture urging the importance of developing and awakening the spiritual life.

To Speak on Heredity.

Tonight Mr Riddell will give his most popular Chautauqua lecture, "Heredity, or Why We Are What We Are." Mr Riddell is a recognized authority on heredity. He has personally examined the psychology and heredity of several thousand persons, including over 5,000 convicts and as many more insane and feeble minded, besides over 10,000 children.

COMMISSIONED OFFICERS WILL GO TO DENVER

Are to Attend School to Be Conducted for National Guard. Much Interest.

Officers of company A, N. G. C., of Colorado Springs, accompanied by Col W. A. Davis of the Second regiment and Captain F. J. Burnham, will go to Denver tomorrow to attend a school for the commissioned officers of the National Guard of Colorado which will be held Saturday night at the capitol building. They are Captain Paul M Lennox, First Lieutenant Hildreth Frost and Second Lieutenant George Zehner.

The purpose of the school is for the instruction of the officers in several branches of military discipline. Those who attend will be addressed by officers of the United States army.

There has been much enthusiasm of late in the National guard throughout the state. Colonel Davis announced yesterday that a new company to be known as H company has just been recruited at Trinidad with a membership of 46 men. This company will be a part of the Second regiment. Another company, to be designated as Company K, has just been formed in Denver. Forty-seven recruits have enrolled every one of whom is a college graduate.

Negotiations are under way for the use of Temple theater as a temporary armory. The meeting next Monday night will be held at Woodmen hall but it is probably that company A will meet for drill at Temple theater after that date until the new armory is built.

BRICK MAKERS UNITE

Four Springs Concerns Organize Colorado Brick Association—Economy the Object

The Hill Brick and Tile company, the Schlessinger Brick and Tile company, the Brewer Brick and Tile company and the Schraeder Brick company have effected a combination to be known as the Colorado Brick association, and offices are soon to be established in the Mining Exchange building.

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the new association with the secretary of state in Denver. The incorporators are Benn Brewer, John Hill and Samuel Schlessinger, all of Colorado Springs. The capitalization is $5,000. According to one of the men concerned, the object of the incorporation is to lessen operating expenses and do away with unnecessary competition.

FAMOUS CASE UP AGAIN

Bigger Suit Against Empire Water and Power Co. Scheduled for April 5.

A famous suit instituted a number of years ago, wherein the commercial value of mountain scenery is brought to the attention of the courts is to come up at the next term, probably April 5, when the United States circuit court at Pueblo takes up the case of Leander A. Bigger against the Empire Water and Power company of this city.

Briefly stated, the action is brought to restrain the power company from diverting the waters of Cascade canon for commercial purposes, the allegation being made that property owners in the vicinity of the stream would be damaged by the consequent injury to the natural scenery of the canon which constitutes the chief value of real estate therein and that the canon would become dry.

On the other hand, the company claims that it would be impossible to construct a dam absolutely water tight and that the seepage would prevent the creek from becoming dry. They further contend that the storage of water in reservoirs up above the canon would make the flow of water in the springs below the canon stronger, and even cause new ones to break out.

R. L. Holland of this city represents the power company while Eugene F. Ware the lawyer and poet of Kansas City Kan., is looking after the interests of Mr. Bigger.

LARGER GAS MAINS—A force of workmen employed by the gas company yesterday completed the work of replacing the small gas mains on Kiowa street east from Nevada avenue to the alley with pipes of a larger size.

UNION PACIFIC BEATEN

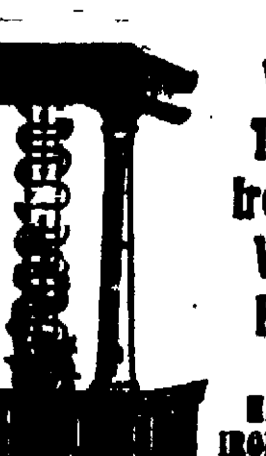

Its Claim to a Right of Way 400 Feet Wide Rejected by the Federal Court.

DENVER March 24—Judge Lewis of the federal court today handed down a decision adverse to the Union Pacific railroad in the right of way litigation in the town of Greeley, Colo. which has been in court a number of years.

Judge Lewis held that the Union Pacific railroad was not entitled to a strip of ground 400 feet wide from Denver to Cheyenne under various congressional grants because it had failed to comply with terms of the grant in several particulars.

In rendering the decision he denied the application of the Union Pacific for an injunction restraining the Denver, Laramie and Northwestern, the Chicago Burlington and Quincy and other companies from building along its right of way in the town of Greeley.

NEW PHONE SERVICE FOR BROADMOOR RESIDENTS

Cable and New Wires to Be Strung in Near Future.—Work Will Cost $25,000.

All arrangements for the rewiring of Broadmoor by the Colorado Telephone company have been made and the work will be begun as soon as the material arrives. It is expected by those who have charge of the work that operations can be begun within 10 days.

The improvements that are to be made will necessitate the expenditure of about $25,000, and the telephone system in Broadmoor will be practically reorganized. An overhead cable is to be put in between Ivywild and Broadmoor to replace the open wires that are at present used.

This improvement of the Broadmoor district will practically represent the extension work to be done by the company during the coming year. The improvements will be made under the direction of District Manager C. E. Stratton, who came to Colorado Springs a short time ago to succeed R. F. Morris, who becomes general manager of the Tristate Telephone and Telegraph company, with headquarters in El Paso, Tex.

Mr. Morris will leave Colorado Springs for El Paso tonight and enter upon the duties of his new office immediately upon his arrival there. Mrs. Morris will join him there later. Miss Caroline Bayne, who has been connected with the Colorado Springs office of the Colorado Telephone company, will also go to El Paso to become Mr Morris' private secretary.

"I expect to have a commercial telephone line established between El Paso and Colorado Springs by the first of next year," said Mr Morris yesterday. This will necessitate the building of about 1,000 miles of telephone line, much of which will be between El Paso and San Antonio. This work will be begun soon and pushed ahead as rapidly as possible.

"The new Tristate Telephone and Telegraph company will reach cities in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. The general offices will be in El Paso on the fifth floor of the new building of the Rio Grande Valley and Trust company."

The first inspection of the company's holdings is said to have been very satisfactory and the fact that the investigations made are now being checked over is taken as evidence that the deal will go through. All girls of the High School will have to take physical training or leave school, according to the rule announced yesterday morning by Principal John R. Richards. ENTERTAINING LECTURE

The lecture on Italy by Charles A. Payne, which was presented at the Opera House last night as one of the numbers of the Y. M. C. A. Star course drew a large house. Mr. Payne has a faculty for describing just what one would be most interested in if in Italy and he illustrated his lecture last night with colored stereopticon views. What he had to say about Naples and Rome was especially interesting and some of his pictures of the ancient Roman ruins were so clear that the inscriptions upon the stones could be deciphered with ease.

The speaker secured his information and the photographs from which the slides were made during personal travels in Italy. His lecture last night combined history and legend, science and romance, fun and pathos nature and life.

Last night's lecture was given as a substitute for the Central Grand Concert company which was to have been here last January but failed to arrive.

"TAX BURDEN FALLS ON POOR MAN"--WHITE

John Z. White Speaks on "The Single Tax" and "Municipal Corruption."

"The art of modern government is to so adjust taxation that the burden will fall upon wages, and in the United States this art is so far perfected that nearly all taxes are collected from this source by the federal government, we may almost say wholly."

This was the keynote of the address on "The Single Tax," delivered by John Z. White last night before the Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian church at the church. An appreciative audience was present.

"George proposed to abolish not ownership of land—but taxation of products," the speaker continued. "He would abolish taxes on all things made by labor and tax the value of the land alone. If now we apply the test question above—namely, they who produce should own—we perceive that the ownership of land gives no product only labor can produce. Therefore rent is part of the product of labor and justice on which private property is based, requires the rent be recovered from the hands of mere land owners. So George proposed that the rent fund being turned into the public treasury, schools and other public works in and being used for maintaining roads which all participants would give back to those who toil the part of their product now taken by earth owners.

"Turning to the actual situation we find the reason for Andrew Carnegie's declaration that the most surprised he ever was in his life was when he learned that the man who did the work was not the man who got rich—so much is taken in rent that wages must be low. Carnegie is worth millions, so are thousands of others; and every millionaire is the explanation of many "who do not get rich." A millionaire do you know how much a million is? If a man work for $5 a day, six days in the week, he will be obliged to work over 600 years to earn $1,000,000, and if Adam had begun when a boy, at the same rate, he would now be worth $10,000,000, provided some one had fed, clothed and housed him during the whole time."

Municipal Corruption.

Mr. White spoke before the club women yesterday afternoon at All Souls' church on "Municipal Corruption." In speaking of the conditions of graft that exist and flourish in some of the large eastern cities Mr. White said in part:

"Why does this condition continue? Are men generally dishonest by nature or is there something in the adjustment of public affairs that tends to call out the evil of which human nature is capable? Gladstone expresses the sentiment that it is the duty of government to make it easy to do right.

"Some function of civilized social life belong to society acting as a unit. It is our belief that the future to clearly distinguish between public and private functions and the consequent surrender of public rights to private control on the one hand and the invasion of private rights by public power on the other is the cause of the admittedly bad condition now prevalent."

LIFE WITH CIRCUS IS VERY STRENUOUS

WORK BEGINS EARLY AND CONTINUES LATE.

No Other Calling Has Such a Long Day—Recent Changes in Tented Show Business.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

The circus with its jingling music and atmosphere of mirth and wonder has made a place for itself in American life. The multi-colored poster, hung so alluringly on the roadside barn, catches the eye of the small boy as he wends his way homeward from school and makes him late for the evening chores. Its extravagantly worded and elaborately pictured promise of scenes of splendor and mystery arouses in his sanguine mind a rapturous determination "to see that show" It develops in him a spirit of thrift and a prosperity for economy that, if maintained throughout his after life would make him rich

The tented city, coming in with the gray dawn rising specter-like out of the mist, revealing its wonders during they day and then disappearing in the darkness, is almost like some trick in magic. The system by which all this is accomplished is quite as wonderful as the astonishing things seen in the ring. The circus men have perfected the routine of their calling in every possible way They have the adding machine in the ticket wagon the cash register at the door, and they carry with them their own portable telephone system and electric light plant

Before the circus comes to town more than a hundred men have preceded it to perfect all arrangements They are contracting agents, advertisers and inspectors One arranges for the railroad transportation, one for the lot where the exhibition is to be given, one for the license, one for the newspaper advertising, one for the bill-boards, one for the livery teams to take the bill posters to the country, etc, etc The men in advance have a world of details to look after They must report on the railroad run coming into the town, as well as the one leaving it The curves and grades must all be investigated so the proper allowance for time may be made If there are tunnels it must be made certain that the heavy vans and tall elephant cars will clear them A careful report also is made on the haul from the railroad yards to the exhibition grounds It must be ascertained if all bridges and culverts are strong enough to bear the weight of the heavy vans Contracting for the daily provisions constitutes another feature of the advance work There are from seven to nine hundred people with a large circus and "show day" is an event to be looked forward to by dealers in the towns along the route

Every Day Is Payday

There is no other calling which has such a long day as the circus It begins early in the morning and runs well into the night The dusty engines are hardly uncoupled from the trains until the canvas-covered wagons are rolling from the cars and trundling through the streets toward the lot The scene at the grounds is one which never fails to attract hundreds of spectators There is hardly any other instance where so much work is accomplished in so little time, the morning work being the most visible evidence of the highly perfected organization Order comes out of chaos while you look Every man has his place and every driver knows where his wagon is needed and at just what time Everything with the circus is on wheels and it is of the greatest importance that there be no delay in moving the wagons containing the stuff If the wagons come promptly on the lot in the order that they come from the cars there is little danger of delay First the stakes and chains then the poles, then the canvas, and as soon as the tents are under way the seats and apparatus for the performance At the same time the wagons containing the cook tents, eating tents, stables, sideshow, the menagerie, dressing rooms, etc, etc., must be delivered and their contents [illegible] into their respective positions If there is delay in getting the wagons from the cars to the lot it means that the parade must be delayed.

The parade is the trial of the circus profession because it comes in the morning during the greatest rush of the day, and if there is the slightest delay it runs over into the business of the afternoon and gives no time for rest for either the people or the horses On a hot morning when there is a long haul from the cars to the lot, the stock should have an opportunity to rest, but this often is impossible More accidents happen during the jam which results from the parade than at any other time during the visit of the circus The warning "hold your horses, the elephants are coming," often goes unheeded and serious runaways are frequent. Great anxiety always is felt by the management until this feature of the day's program is over. The proprietors of the Barnum and Bailey show abandoned the parade altogether while in Europe, and found that its withdrawal greatly simplified the handling of the show without affecting the attendance It could easily be done away with abroad, because the big circus is a new institution over there, and the people are not accustomed to all its features as they are in this country Another reason for omitting the parade in Europe was because a great many people came to see it and then went home satisfied

Work Early and Late.

The ticket wagon is the heart of the circus The financial branch of the business is an improved and highly perfected system in itself In the morning the treasurer sends out his agents to pay bills, dictates correspondence to a stenographer and rapidly disposes of the various features of the day's business When the door of the big show is thrown open a busy hour follows for the men in the ticket wagon A big five-pole tent will seat 10,000 people, and if the show "plays to capacity" all of this number must buy their tickets and pass through the door within an hour and a half, in fact most of them pass through within an hour This does not afford much opportunity for the men in the ticket wagon to be sociable After the audience is seated the employes are paid off. Every day is payday with the big show One day the performers are paid, another the laborers another the drivers and so on. People who stand in front of the wagon while the money is being taken in often marvel at the amount of it, but they seldom remain long enough to see most of it go out again.

It costs a great deal of money to operate a big circus There are no available statistics of the exact amount because no two shows cost the same, and the expense for no two days is identical in the same show The most conclusive proof that it is an uncertain calling is the fact that there are so few men who succeed in it The big ones can be counted on the fingers of one hand The first cost of circus property is great and it wears out rapidly. The property of a big show is the accumulation of years, with no two pieces the same age or in the same state of repair It represents an investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars and yet it is only worth to its owner what he can make it earn in thirty-two weeks of uncertain weather Expensive cages will get stuck in the mud and be pulled to pieces in the effort to get them out and great losses are sustained in the death of valuable animals During the winter the circus animals must be cared for, and a force of men kept busy arranging for the coming season

Circus Proper Makes No Money

The circus proper never pays for itself the profits coming from the reserved seat sale the sideshow the concert and the privileges. If a show could only have the reserved seat left as profit after all expenses are paid the season's work would net a big gain Some of the big acts cost a thousand dollars per week in addition to the board and transportation of the performers The bill for colored posters and other advertising matter during the season often runs as high as $150,000 which does not include the cost of putting it up The expense of transporting the show from one town to another rarely falls below $500 The side-show is always a money earner, because it does not cost in proportion to the ring performance It will take in from $350 to $400 per day The side show performers have longer hours than anyone else with the show The familiar cry of the "barkers" and the music of the side-show band are the first challenge of the morning and the last call at night. The side show frequently will take in thirty or forty dollars while the big tent is being taken down

The show business has undergone many important changes during the last few years One improvement is the perfection in the system for keeping an absolute check on the advertising Inspectors are sent through the country after the bill posters to make sure that all of the posters are up and then follow to see that they stay up until the day of the show In the matter of lithographs a contract is made with each store keeper to keep several bills in his window for a consideration of a number of free tickets An inspector goes around the town just before the show gets in and unless the paper is in position in each place the contract is taken up at the door and refused Another new thing is advertising only such features as are actually given Formerly shows advertised without any expectation of living up to their promises, but now if anything happens to one of the acts that is being featured the special paper is at once ordered "cut out"

The bane of circus life is rain and mud When there is fair weather everything goes well It is like camping out With the sun shining, the dust flying, and the country folks crowding around the inexhaustible supply of red lemonade, the circus goes its merry way with its people quite as happy in their life as those in any other. Altogether it is not a bad thing, not bad because its jingling music and its atmosphere of mirth and wonder serve to amuse the young and drive away dull care of the old, and anything which does this even for a day is not without its excuse for being.

Because he failed to appear in court at the hour set for his hearing on a charge of nonsupport, John F. Stout, a negro, was soundly lectured by Justice Toombs yesterday and came very nearly forfeiting a bond of $300 which he had secured from friends for his appearance The case was finally disposed of by Stout giving his word of honor that he would support his wife in the future and pay the costs in the case, amounting to $11 60

Stout's wife, who preferred the charges against him, grew soft-hearted later on, and decided she would not prosecute But she reckoned without the court and before the hearing yesterday afternoon was finished both she and her husband were made well aware of the fact that while it is very easy to start court action against each other, it is an extremely difficult thing to stop the suit whenever they wish.

MARRIED IN DENVER

Colorado Springs Couple Endeavor to Keep Wedding Secret but the News Leaks Out.

Although they had kept the fact a secret for more than a day, it was learned last night that Henry McKinley, a member of hose company No 2 of the Colorado Springs fire department and Miss Bessie M Parrish, formerly a stenographer in the employ of the Yates and McClain Realty company, were married in Denver last Wednesday The couple used witty tactics to prevent discovery by their friends Mr McKinley having posed in Denver as a resident of Seattle and Miss Parrish as coming from Kansas. The news leaked out, however, upon their return to this city

The marriage is still more romantic by reason of the fact that while he has been working as a fireman in Colorado Springs for the last two years the bridegroom has a snug fortune in the neighborhood of $30,000 awaiting him within a few years The money was left to him by an uncle, but the terms of the will are said to be such that he cannot come into possession of the money until he is 30 years of age He is now about 22 years old and his bride is two years his junior They have known each other for about a year

Miss Parrish has lived in Colorado Springs for some time with her mother at 329 West Vermijo avenue, and Mr. and Mrs McKinley will make their home at this address It was learned last night at hose company No. 2 that Mr McKinley will be on duty again today

HAWLEY INTERESTED IN GOULD RAILROADS

He Is Reported to Have Obtained Control of Denver & Rio Grande and Western Pacific.

DENVER, March 24—Sensational reports reached Denver today of important changes in the control of the Missouri Pacific and Denver and Rio Grande and the Western Pacific railroads. The Times this evening says

"Edwin Hawley is said to have secured important holdings in the Denver and Rio Grande and is now declared to be in a position to dictate the traffic policy of that road and the Western Pacific

"It has been confirmed officially that Mr Hawley is a large stockholder in the Western Pacific but his holdings in that road are not sufficient to give control His domination of affairs in the Western Pacific is declared to be due to the acquisition of stock in the Denver and Rio Grande and his position is said to be so strong that he recently named a vice president for the Denver and Rio Grande and Western Pacific over the head of President E. T. Jeffery

"The Western Pacific has $75,000,000 stock outstanding The Denver and Rio Grande acquired $50,000,000, or two-thirds of the entire issue The Denver and Rio Grande then deposited all of this stock with the Bankers Trust company of New York as collateral security for its recently authorized $150,000,000 bond issue That deal ties up the Western Pacific stock so that no person or company can secure a majority of it without acquiring control of the Denver and Rio Grande Mr. Hawley got into the Western Pacific through the acquisition by that company of the Alameda and San Joaquin Valley railroad but he owns less than $25,000,000 stock as that is all that is in the hands of the public

Edwin Hawley is reported in the east to have either acquired a controlling interest in the Denver and Rio Grande thereby getting control of the Western Pacific or to have made an alliance with George Gould

"Last November T M Schumacker of the El Paso and Southwestern railroad was elected vice president of the Denver and Rio Grande and Western Pacific roads and put in charge of the traffic department of both roads and it is learned that he was called east to confer with Mr Hawley and received his instructions from Mr Hawley personally "

Such a merger is outlined would give a total trackage of more than 34,000 miles It would bring into being the strongest competitor that has ever confronted the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific "

WALSH IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON March 24—In a better condition than when he left San Antonio, Tex, where he went for the benefit of his health Thomas F. Walsh, the Colorado millionaire, reached here at 8 o'clock this morning He entered an automobile, and within a short time was resting comfortably in his bedroom On the journey to Washington he was accompanied by Mrs Walsh, Mr and Mrs Edward McLean, his son-in-law and daughter Doctors Barker and Wainwright and two nurses

One quarter of a million of dollars as damages for alleged libel and conspiracy are demanded of Thomas F Walsh, in a suit filed today in the supreme court of the District of Columbia by Dethlef C Hansen, a New York lawyer Joined as defendants with Mr Walsh are his Washington representative, Turner A Wickersham and Delancey Nicoll, Courtlandt V. Anable, John D Lindsay and George Gordon Battle, members of the New York bar

The plaintiff says he was retained by Violette Watson, a minor to prosecute a suit against Walsh, which he filed September 6, 1904, in the New York courts He retained as associate counsel former Secretary of the Treasury John G Carlisle Before the case came to a hearing, Hansen says, Walsh's attorneys effected a settlement for $6,000 and refused to settle his claim for attorney's fees.

He declares that the defendant then entered into a conspiracy to ruin his standing as a member of the bar and caused charges to be preferred against him with the grievance committee of the Bar Association. Only a portion of these charges were sustained, he says and he was disbarred for a term of one year.

FOR CLEANER CURRENCY.

IF THE average individual, especially the average woman, should be given a worthless piece of cloth about two by five inches in size, which had been passed from hand to hand until it had become filthy with the grime of constant handling, she probably would not touch it with a pair of tongs. Much less would she carry it about in her pocketbook or smooth it out carefully with her hands. But let this same dirty rag be a piece of currency—that is, let it possess an actual purchasing value—and all of us, including the fastidious woman, accept it willingly, yes eagerly.

Occasionally somebody gets hold of a clean bill, but so rarely that it is an event to be remembered. Scrutinize the ordinary five-dollar bill; it is so grimy that its original color cannot be detected, and it has an oozy, greasy feeling which accurately suggests all sorts of unpleasant things. You do not know just who has handled it but your imagination can readily supply more details than are needed. Of one thing you are certain—that it is such a disagreeable looking thing that you could not be persuaded to touch it with the tip of your finger if it were not money.

In this matter of supplying the public with clean currency we are a long way behind European nations, especially England. The life of a Bank of England note is short, for it is never reissued, and is not in circulation long enough to become soiled and crumpled. In this country the Government will issue clean currency in exchange for old bills on presentation at the Treasury or any sub-Treasury, so it happens that in some of the Eastern cities which are not far from Washington the banks make a practice of supplying their customers with clean bills. But this is not commonly done in the West because of the cost of expressing the money to and from the sub-Treasuries, and as a consequence a bill is likely to remain in circulation until it is ready to fall to pieces.

A few days ago the Literary Digest printed an extract from and comments on an article contributed to the Popular Science Monthly by Mr. A. Cressy Morrison, of Chicago, who is trying to arouse interest in the sanitary aspect of this subject. Mr. Morrison bases his contention for clean currency on the fact that repeated bacteriological examinations have revealed the presence on soiled bills of countless disease germs of all sorts. Ninety-two million germs of various kinds, including typhoid fever, tuberculosis and smallpox, were found on a single one-dollar bill. The germs of diphtheria and scarlet fever were also found on currency, and as these examinations were made by the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture they can be accepted as reliable.

In answer to this contention it is argued that bank tellers who constantly handle currency in all of its varying stages of uncleanliness, seldom contract any infection therefrom. But regardless of the sanitary aspect of the matter there is no doubt as to its esthetic side. Soiled, wornout currency may or may not be a dangerous source of infection but it certainly is disagreeable stuff to handle. The cost to the Government of adopting some plan for insuring a fresh supply at all times would not be great, and the added satisfaction to the public would fully justify the charge.

MAKING THE FOURTH OF JULY SAFE.

ONE of the most remarkable movements in recent years, judged by its popularity and its promise of success, is the effort to do away with the present method of celebrating the Fourth of July and adopt in its stead a form of observance which shall be at once safe and sane. To say that the present way of observing Independence Day is both dangerous and senseless is a mere commonplace. It is dangerous because it depends mostly on the use of explosives which kill several thousand people at each celebration, and it is senseless because the purpose for which the day was originally set aside as a holiday has been entirely lost sight of.

Many state legislatures and scores of city governments all over the country have passed laws forbidding the sale or use of devices which contain giant powder, dynamite, fulminate or other high-power explosives. Of course, such legislation excites the opposition of many thoughtless persons who contend that children should be allowed to celebrate the Fourth in "the good old-fashioned way" and that it is a shame to deprive "Young America" of the pleasure of blowing himself up with giant crackers or giving himself lockjaw with toy pistols. But in spite of these foolish arguments the movement is making headway steadily and is certain eventually to be entirely successful.

A New York woman who is interested in this subject recently compiled figures comparing the loss through killed and wounded in seven battles of the Revolution, with those of seven Fourth of July celebrations from 1903 to 1909. The showing this made is instructive.

Battles	Killed and Wounded	Celebrations	Killed and Wounded.
Lexington	93	July 4, 1903	4,449
Bunker Hill	449	July 4, 1904	4,169
Fort Moultrie	37	July 4, 1905	5,176
White Plains	100	July 4, 1906	5,466
Fort Washington	149	July 4, 1907	4,413
Monmouth	229	July 4, 1908	4,823
Cowpens	72	July 4, 1909	5,307
	1,119		34,803

It is plain however, that if the fireworks feature is taken away from Fourth of July celebrations something else must be substituted for it. At present there is nothing to it but fireworks. In several Eastern cities efforts have been made to devise a form of celebration that would possess some historical significance—for instance a historical pageant based on Revolutionary themes. Of course this would be so expensive that it could hardly be done successfully by small towns. But whatever the solution of the problem may be there is hardly a doubt that one will be found before long for enough opposition to the method of celebrating by slaughter has been aroused to bring it to an early end.

A VALUED CITIZEN.

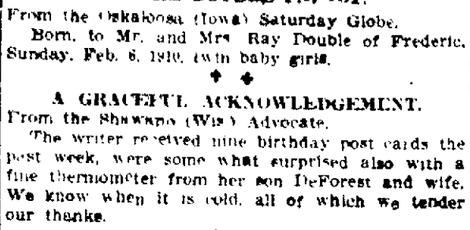

From the Titonka(Ill.) Topic.

SUCH LANGUAGE.

From the Breda (Iowa) News.

The editor of the News is an appreciative cuss, but we'll be d—d if we can stir up much thankfulness to the sneak thief who has been helping us to burn our coal lately. We almost caught the skunk a few nights ago, and the next time we may be a little more successful, in which event we want to state most emphatically that "sumth'ns gwine ter drap."

A PROTEST AGAINST ROBBERY.

From the New York Evening Post.

Aside from all questions of Cannon or "Cannonism," the insurrection gives evidence of the general state of political feeling, and above all, of feeling on the tariff. Honest men like President Taft and Representative McCall may succeed in convincing themselves that Aldrich and Cannon gave the country a "square deal" on the tariff, but it is plain that they will never convince anybody else. To satisfy the demand of the country, to fulfill the expectations that had been aroused in the campaign, a change in the tariff was necessary whose reality it required no fine statistical argument to establish.

If the indignation against the tariff taxes levied on the people by favored interests, which had been steadily rising year after year, was to be stilled, the change in the tariff had to be one that was clearly visible to the naked eye. The reception that Mr. Taft's Winona speech met with was a foretaste of what has been happening in the House during the past few days. When powers that are almost despotic in themselves, and whose range is coextensive with the government of a great country, are exercised not only with gross disregard of the rights of minorities, but also in the interest of a system of tax spoliation of which the country is thoroughly tired, such a storm as we are witnessing is a natural result.

A STANDARD OIL FALLACY.

From the Kansas City Star.

Attorneys for Standard Oil in filing the brief in the United States supreme court to show why that company should not be dissolved, in accordance with the verdict procured by the government in the United States court for the eastern district of Missouri repeat the old fallacy that Standard Oil has given the people cheaper products of crude oil than could have been had under the competitive system.

First of all this is merely an assumption, but it is an assumption that has gained far too wide acceptance, even among many who denounce the trust. It is no argument to say that oil products are cheaper in this country than in others. They should be, for the crude product is vast and easily accessible. Nor does it follow that because Standard Oil has developed the refining system and has multiplied the products of petroleum through the resources of its vast business equal or greater development might not have been brought about under fair competition.

Indeed the highest attainments in manufacturing, generally speaking, have been through the medium competition and the necessities such competition has made for experiment and invention.

Aside from this consideration, the people could well have afforded to pay a little more for oil and oil products to have prevented the amassing of such fortunes as those made by Rockefeller and others out of the oil monopoly. Such fortunes are menaces to the general welfare and to the democratic principle of government and society.

SOME PINCHOT CRITICS.

From the Kansas City Star.

An editorial paragraph in Harper's Weekly on the effect of Gifford Pinchot's testimony in the Ballinger investigation is typical of a good deal of well-intentioned comment based on a fragmentary information of what the testimony was. Harper's thinks it was a bad mistake for Pinchot to announce that he would prove that Ballinger had deceived the President on three essential points, when the misstatements were in fact made by Ballinger's former law partner and when Ballinger himself had stated the matter correctly to the President. It thinks it was a still worse mistake for Pinchot to be forced to admit that he himself had made three "important misstatements of fact" in a letter to the President.

But it happens that the three misstatements of fact by Ballinger's partner were being used to bolster up the secretary's cause to the President and to the public, for they were sent by the partner to the Outlook for publication, and by Ballinger to the President. Also it is not correct to say that Ballinger had made correct statements on all these points to the President. For he had made virtually the same statements in his defense to Mr. Taft. That is, he had denied that he had any but the most formal knowledge of the Cunningham claims when he ordered them to be clear-listed although the testimony proved to the contrary, and he had denied that Glavis had intervened to prevent the patenting of the claims, which proved contrary to the documentary evidence.

The misstatements of Pinchot were made when the records were not accessible to him and they had no practical bearing on the case. Only by the wildest distortion can they be made out to be of a significance equal to that of the errors of Ballinger.

Furthermore, Pinchot did show that in two other important particulars Ballinger had not been ingenuous with Mr. Taft—in telling him that a decision by the comptroller terminated a useful agreement between the forest service and the Indian bureau and in asserting that the water power sites were thrown open to entry on the recommendation of the reclamation service, with the expectation of immediately withdrawing them after a more careful survey.

The critics who assert that Pinchot's testimony failed to make good simply haven't read the verbatim reports of the committee hearings.

MAN'S CURIOSITY.

Were questioning the distant stars, to lay their secrets bare, do human beings live on Mars? Is Saturn round or square? We dig into the mystery of all the universe not knowing if results will be a blessing or a curse. When I was but a little lad, as beautiful as lard, when all the world was young and glad, I played about the yard, and saw the birds in joyous flight, the gorgeous flowers in bloom; then all the days were passing bright, and night gave naught of gloom. One day, while resting neath a tree, to dodge the noontide heat, a wondrous bird camped down by me, upon the garden seat. I was not satisfied to gaze upon its wings of gauze, I felt that I its form must raise, and hold it in my paws. I was not satisfied to view its beauties from afar. I was like grown up people who must dig into a star. And so I seized it—deed of shame! And there was none to check. And then a streak of lightning came, and hit me in the neck. They put me in my little bed, and doped and poulticed me; "that little bird," my grandma said, "was but a bumble bee."

The Daily Chit-Chat

Do you want to avoid that tired feeling that's due along about this time?

Do you want to feel as if you could house-clean the world, instead of shrinking before the thought of six or eight or ten rooms to clean?

Do you want to feel as if you wished the working day wouldn't end so soon, instead of watching the clock all the afternoon?

If you do, I can give you a springtime recipe that's better than sulphur and molasses, and much nicer to take.

And this is the way my prescription reads:

Fresh Air—Take 20 lungfuls at an open door or window every hour or so. Also take several thousand lungfuls at least once, and preferably two or three times, a day, on a walk.

Professor Sargent, the physical director of the greatest university in the country, has recently made the statement that women are in a fair way to overtake men in the attainment of perfect physical development.

And the chief thing to which the professor ascribes this state of affairs is the fact that women are out in the fresh air much more than they used to be.

The other day mother and I took one of her friends to drive, and when we brought her back, as she climbed out of the carriage, she said, "You don't know how I have enjoyed this. Why, except to stand on my back steps and shake my table cloth, this is the first time I've been outside my door for three weeks next Tuesday."

I wish there could be a law making it a legal offense for any woman, unless she is confined to the house by illness, to stay indoors for a whole week.

Any home-keeping woman ought to be out in the air at least an hour, morning and afternoon.

"Such a bother to get all dressed twice," I know some women are answering.

Well then, why not bundle up and take your work or your morning paper out on the sunny spot in the back porch in the morning, and then take a walk in the afternoon?

And then another thing: How much are you inviting out-of-doors indoors?

I know one very healthy woman who goes about her housework the year round with windows flung wide open.

In the winter time, of course, that would be pretty harsh treatment, but I don't think it would be a bad plan to put into practice just now.

If you are afraid of so much air, at least try the milder plan of opening the window and airing out every hour or two.

And suppose, also, you be sure to take those occasional lungfuls of fresh air at the open window or door.

Ask your children to teach you the breathing exercises they do at school and administer them to yourself occasionally.

Do you think all this bother too big a price to pay for feeling better?

Then listen to the other boon the professor promises, and I'm sure you'll be won over.

"Women," says the professor, "have begun to realize that the surest way to obtain both health and good looks is through air."

VACATION BIGINS TODAY

Schools Will Be Closed for a Week.
Teachers Are to Be Paid Today.

The public schools of the city will close today for the spring vacation. Studies will not be resumed until April 4 in order that pupils and teachers may have a rest before the arduous work coincident with the closing term of the year's school. No exercises will be held at the schools on account of the nearness of Arbor day which falls on the third Friday in April, this year April 15.

The teachers and other employes of the school district will receive their March pay today. The payroll, which was made up yesterday by Secretary Van E. Rouse of the board of education, totals $14,076.87.

Silver Pitchers

They often seem like a sort of dissipation with designers so much enthusiasm appears to have gone into the making of many of them, that we are almost led to believe the artist in silver must choose the designing of Pitchers for his inspirational moments, his happy times.

Just look at the Pitchers we are showing, for instance, and imagine the loving touches, the sprightly thoughts, which, judging from results, must have gone into them!

AN INVOICE:—

This is the time of year when tubercular patients look back and compare their present condition with that of last fall. A gain in weight, a loss of fever, a gain in strength, and a loss of cough and expectoration should have occurred. If this is not the case, or if for any reason you are not perfectly satisfied with your open air and forced diet treatment, come out to Tent Cottage Homes, 105. Cheyenne Road, and see patients who have improved, and especially those who are about well enough to go to their homes. Examinations free any afternoon except Sunday at Suite 38 First National Bank Building.

SUES STREET CAR CO.

Mrs. Lura Gadsby Asks $10,000 for Alleged Injuries Received in Getting Off Car.

Suit for $10,000 damages against the Colorado Springs and Interurban Railway company was filed in the district court yesterday by Mrs. Lura Gadsby, for injuries alleged to have been received in getting off a street car.

In the complaint, Mrs. Gadsby sets forth that, on February 1, this year, while she was alighting from a Santa Fe car at Pikes Peak and Wahsatch avenues, the car was started suddenly, and she was thrown violently to the ground. The list of injuries enumerated contains descriptions of bruises and lacerations all over the body, and, in addition to this, she claims that she has been put to great expense for physician's fees and hospital bills.

A. building.

RICHARDS GOES EAST ON BUSINESS TRIP

Principal J. R. Richards of the Colorado Springs High School leaves today for a visit to Chicago and Boston. He will be absent from the city for 10 days, and expects to investigate several business propositions that have been made to him recently. He announced some time ago that upon his return from the east he would be able to state whether he will continue as principal of the High School or give up school work altogether.

APPLICATIONS ARE DENIED

In the Colorado state supreme court Wednesday the applications for writs of supersedeas in the cases of Adolph Fehringer and G. J. Gillaspy, druggists, were denied. The defendants have given bond for costs and will prosecute the appeals in the usual way. The two druggists were fined $125 and costs each in the district court some time ago for selling liquor and were given 60 days in which to file bills of exceptions. The attorneys then applied to the supreme court for the writs of supersedeas.

GLADYS KELTON AT 13 YEARS MUSICAL MARVEL

All fortunate enough to have heard the grand musical program which is being offered at the Majestic this week agree that Gladys Kelton, the juvenile member of the company known as "The Three Keltons' is a musical marvel and her work is one of the fine features of a superlatively-high class bill

Although only 13 years of age, this youngster, who is as winsome as she is accomplished, plays half a dozen musical instruments with consummate skill, her playing of the xylophone being little short of marvelous. In the Second Hungarian rhapsody of Liszt, a most difficult composition with frequent changes of tempo, little Miss Kelton gives as brilliant an exhibition on the xylophone as was ever heard in this city, and at every performance she wins enthusiastic and well-deserved applause. As a matter of fact only two other xylophone artists in the country attempt this number.

Mrs. Kelton on the xylophone and cornet, especially the latter, and Mr. Kelton as director and trombone player, show thorough musical training and altogether the act is most enjoyable

AL G. FIELD

A model country place situated 12 miles north of Columbus, O., in the Olentangy valley, is the summer home of Al G. Field, who will present his minstrel show at the Opera House tomorrow, matinee and night.

There are about 200 acres of fertile land, devoted to agriculture and stock raising; in fact, the products are as diversified as any products on a farm.

The quality of the products are such that the name, Maple Villa farm, stamped on them, gives the highest market value

Jersey cattle, Percheron horses, Shropshire sheep, fine poultry pens, and everything that makes progressive farming interesting and profitable. There is a game preserve—quail, squirrel, rabbit and other game is abundant and the fishing is tempting even to those who rarely indulge in that recreation

There is one feature that is quite new to farming in this section—namely, the curing and smoking of Yorkshire hams and the manufacturing of short sausage Large fields are devoted to the propagation of hogs Special care is taken as to the feeding and slaughtering of the animals for the hams and sausages, a process of curing and smoking the Yorkshire hams gives them a flavor that makes these hams a table delicacy. They are shipped to all parts of the country as is the short sausage

It was not intended by the owner to engage in this industry to any great extent, but the excellence of the hams and sausage found instant favor with those who partook of them, and the demand has forced Mr. Field to enlarge the little plant, and a regular business will be established in the ham and short sausage beginning about January 1 1910, or sooner if the plant can be enlarged

Maple Villa farm is one of the many interesting places in the beautiful country where it is located. Guests are numerous, particularly in the summer months, while Mr. Field is at home

The latch string hangs always ready for the use of his many friends.

Seats are now selling. Prices are: Matinee, 25, 50, 75 cents and $1.00; night, 50, 75 cents, $1.00 and $1.50.

GRAND OPERA SEAT SALE TODAY

hTe seat sale for the two performances of grand opera which are to be given at the Opera House, Monday, with a special Easter Monday matinee, by Mme. Antoinette Le Brun and her company of grand opera artists, will open this morning at the box office in the Opera House pharmacy. Manager Nye has made special arrangements whereby he is presenting this splendid organization at an unusually low scale of prices. Manager Nye believes that everyone should have an opportunity of hearing this famous prima donna in these great operas and he has made the prices accordingly.

Mme. Le Brun presents her program entirely in English She believes that as every foreign country insists on hearing its grand opera in its native tongue, it is only proper that American music lovers should be treated in the same manner and given opportunity of hearing opera in a language which they can understand.

"Il Trovatore" contains some of the most musical melodies Verdi ever wrote, but it also contains an unusual amount of worthless passages which have made music critics attempt to destroy its popular appreciation Mme. Le Brun has arranged her scenes from "Il Trovatore" so that she takes in only the very best numbers from the opera, leaving out nothing that is truly great and singing nothing that is not the very best. As for her "Martha" selections, she gives the entire second act, which contains all the best musical gems of the opera.

BUSONI, THE GREATEST LIVING PIANIST

The concert tournee of Ferruccio Busoni, the famous Italian pianist, has benn a series of unparalleled triumphs. Audiences have been so loth to leave that in numerous instances the piano has been dragged from the stage and the lights turned out before the pianist was permitted to go.

Glenn Dillard Gunn writes in the Chicago Inter Ocean. "The event of the season took place yesterday in Orchestra hall when Ferruccio Busoni gave what it is feared, was his only piano program for the present season Not only was it the greatest exhibition of piano playing that we are likely to hear unless he should be able to play for us again, but it was the most significant unfolding of interpretative art that any and all of our manifold musical activities are likely to bring to us for it gave us a fleeting glimpse of the greatest musical nature of the present

The importance and significance of the recital was clearly foreshadowed when Mr Busoni appeared here with the Thomas orchestra His performance of the Liszt E flat concerto demonstrated that he is the foremost master of the piano that the world knows today

"In the first place the program was one that no other living pianist could have presented with even a small portion of the authority and conviction that emanated from Busoni's masterful genius.

"It is quite impossible to ascribe superior excellent to the performance of any number on the program, Bach and Beethoven were read with that complete realization of their profound musical content that only a master can achieve Yet one was kept in constant wonder and amazement by the purely pianistic phases of the interpretation even when most deeply moved by the force and conviction of the great musical message of the fantasie and fugue and sonata There were revealed subtleties of total differentiation that made possible a variety of color that rivaled the many voices of the orchestra This ability to maintain half a dozen different tonal and dynamic levels at the same time makes it possible for Busoni to employ the damper pedal as no other pianist can. Whole sections of a composition are melodic idea stands out with perfect clearness from the background, be its setting a sonorous harmonic mass or the delicate tracery of a complicated contrapuntal movement."

Busoni's recital in Colorado Springs takes place next Thursday, March 31, in the Opera House Seat sale begins next Monday morning at the Wills piano store 23 East Kiowa street.

PAVING ENTHUSIASTS ARE MUCH ENCOURAGED

Property Owners Want Improvement Made at Once, and Are Rapidly Signing Petition.

Persons who have been backing the movement to secure pavements for the streets in the downtown district are delighted at the success with which Commissioner J. A. Himebaugh, who is circulating a petition, has met. Already over a third of the property owners in the district affected have signified their eagerness to have the work done by signing the petition Much credit is given to Mr. Himebaugh for his activity in the matter, because of the fact that he is one of the largest holders of property affected, and will therefore be forced to bear a heavy share of the cost.

On Cucharas street, from Cascade to Nevada avenue, and Tejon street, from Pikes Peak to Cucharas, more than 60 per cent of the property owners want the paving, and petitions to that effect have been signed. This represents 680 feet of paving. In the 100 block on Tejon street all of the owners signed.

In all, the owners of 1,168 feet out of a total frontage of 4,300 in the proposed district have signed the petition, and the work of getting the remainder into line is to be carried on with greater energy from now on.

A list containing the names of property owners who have signed the petition, and the amount of property controlled by each, follows:

MILK UP TO STANDARD, SAYS CITY CHEMIST

The testing of milk samples from the various dairies selling milk in Colorado Springs for the month of March has almost been completed by the city chemist, and the results show that there is no attempt being made by the dispensers of the white fluid to evade the law The ordinance governing milk requires that it contain at least 3 per cent butter fat, and of the 40 samples tested thus far this month, only three have have found that did not come up to this requirement All of the others ran much lighter than the standard. This is considered very good, when it is taken into consideration that the present time of year is usually the hard to secure rich milk, because of the kind of feed used

AFTER "JAY DRIVERS"

Police Will Teach Colorado Springs People How to Turn Street Corners.

The partolmen stationed in the downtown district are having a busy time of it trying to teach drivers of vehicles the rules of the road. In most cities where persons insist on turning corners in the wrong direction they are generally termed "jay drivers," and it is the duty of the patrolmen in this instance to teach the "jay drivers" how not to blockade traffic.

The rules apply not only to persons driving horses, but to drivers of automobiles and motorcycles and bicycle riders as well It is the idea of Chief of Police Armstrong to have all the local people so well trained in a few weeks that, by the time the heavy tourist traffic begins, there will be well-beaten tracks at every corner where drivers and riders make the turns in an orderly fashion. The policemen stationed at the corners have orders to arrest anyone refusing to obey their orders in regard to which side of the street to take in turning a corner, or stopping, when necessary, to let pedestrians through.

HAS APPENDICITIS—Albert Ward, a young man who has been in this city for a short time and has been employed in a Cascade avenue restaurant, was removed to St Francis hospital Wednesday to undergo an operation for appendicitis. The operation will probably be performed today by Dr. John H. Ferguson

HELMETS FOR POLICE

Straw Hats Have Appeared and Officers Want to Be in Style.

The sunshine of the last few days has reminded those who are outdoors so much that the hot days are almost here, and even a few of the more daring have already appeared on the streets with straw hats. The police department will be right in style, and if the warm weather continues, it is likely that the chief will issue the order in a few days for all patrolmen to doff the cape and don the helmets on April 1. No change in uniform, heavy to lightweight uniform, as in some cities, as the local ... allowed to wear the same weight ... the year around

HAWKINS SAYS HE IS NOT A CANDIDATE

C. M. Hawkins, who has been mentioned as one of the Democrats of El Paso county who would likely be placed in nomination to succeed George Lang as chairman of the El Paso Democratic central committee, announced yesterday that he could not accept the position, even though it were offered him, and expressed a desire that his friends refrain from using his name in that connection.

E. P. Hufferd, secretary of the committee, has sent a list of the names of the members of the organization to Mr Lang. The latter will fill all vacancies, and will then call a meeting of the committee sometime before April 16.

Treating The Wrong Disease

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or over-busy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality they are all only symptoms caused by some weakness or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better by reason of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots without the use of alcohol and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the distinctly feminine organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

EVERY WOMAN ought to possess Dr. Pierce's great book, the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a magnificent thousand-page illustrated volume. It teaches mothers how to care for their children and themselves. It is the best doctor to have in the house in case of emergency. Over half a million copies were sold at $1.50 each, but ... in paper covers will be sent on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only, or send 31 stamps for a ... cloth-bound copy. NEW ORE BODY OPENED IN THE BURNS MINE

Two Years' Lease on North End of Property Given by the Acacia Company.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, March 24.—A two years' lease, with the royalties graded from 15 to 30 per cent on all ores marketed, has been granted to F. N. Dorthy, J. W. Miller and Leo Cox of this district by President and General Manager Kenneth McKenzie of the Acacia Gold Mining company, on the north end of the Burns lode mining claim on Bull hill. The lessees who have been prospecting through the Wrockloff shaft have opened up a promising ore body, from which values have been obtained ranging from $10 to $20 to the ton. A trial shipment is now being brought to surface and will be loaded out early next week. The lessees will secure air for their machine drills from the pipe line of the Western Investment company, connecting with the John A. Logan plant, and should the new shoot prove continuous heavy tonnage will result as the vein is a strong one.

Bunch and McNamee, operating the main Burns shaft in the center of the claim, are also mining a good grade of ore, as evidenced by the returns on two carloads, shipped last Thursday. One lot of thirty tons brought settlement at the rate of $52.60 to the ton, and a smaller car of coarse rock $34.60 to the ton.

The South Burns Leasing company operating the deep shaft on the south end of the claim is making regular weekly production of milling grade ore. The production made by the lessees of the Acacia company for the last six months of 1909 totaled $54,745.88 and the gross production from the Acacia company's mines, the Burns and Morning Star, to date exceeds $1,000,000.

Little Johnny Leased.

Active operations have been resumed on the Little Johnnie, a patented claim on the southern slope of Beacon hill, owned by the Little Johnnie Gold Mining company. The property has been leased by the management to C. S. Palmer and associates, who have equipped the shaft with a whim and temporary mine buildings. A strong vein is exposed in the Little Johnnie workings, and some ore of high value was mined and shipped from the property, when operated by its former owner, John Buzanes the first president of The Little Johnnie Gold Mining company. The claim is located almost directly on the line of the Roosevelt Deep Drainage Tunnel, and will be one of the first mines of the Beacon hill section to be benefited. Work was suspended on this property three or four years ago on account of water. E. C. Stimson the well-known attorney, formerly of this city and now a resident of Denver, is president of the Little Johnnie company.

Montrose Again Shipping.

Shipments have been resumed from the Montrose mine on Ironclad hill, by Copeland and associate lessees, who are reported to have opened up a new ore body in the lower workings. The ore is found in one of the many "flats" common to this section, and the values reported are much higher than the general average of the Montrose ore. The mine is owned by the Montrose Gold Mining company.

STOCK MARKET QUIET ON EVE OF HOLIDAYS

Some Unloading Due to Concern Over Political Outlook and Other Disquieting Influences

NEW YORK, March 24.—The professional room traders in stocks had practically abandoned their futile efforts to move prices by the early afternoon today when the market lapsed into stagnation. Concern over the political outlook was advanced as the reason for the morning selling in continuation of yesterday's movement. A large part of the selling was said to originate in Boston, where Tuesday's congressional election was of most effect in its influence on opinion regarding the elections next fall. The concern over next fall's results however did not serve to confirm the sellers in their determination to stay short of stocks for three days of a closed market.

The obscure money outlook was a dissuasive influence on stock operations. The domestic interior has been shipping currency to New York on balance during this week but the withdrawals of subtreasury operations have been somewhat larger.

Another decline in British consols today made a new low record for the year and also since 1907. The New York city 4 1-4 per cent bonds were slightly steadier today but did not rally to the subscription price. The Wabash and the Maine Central were reported to have sold short term notes to avoid the necessity of assuming long term obligations at the present unsatisfactory market.

A disquieting feature was the unsupported condition of some of the minor industrial stocks, small selling caused wide declines in the Allis-Chalmers securities and in Railway Steel Spring pfd. United States Steel was under some early pressure in connection with the reports of yielding prices for iron under the active competition of producers to secure orders.

The settlement of the western railroads' dispute with their locomotive firemen was received with satisfaction but the outcome had been so confidently expected that it was of small influence as a market factor.

Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value $2,625,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WEATHER CONDITIONS FAVOR WHEAT BULLS

Lack of Rain in Southwest Helps Lift Prices—Corn, Oats and Provisions Strong

CHICAGO, March 24.—Weather conditions in the southwest were again favorable to the bulls in the wheat pit and as a result prices made substantial gains, the net advances at the close being 1 4 to 15-8@1-2. Corn and oats advanced sharply on covering by shorts and closed at almost the top. Provisions also closed strong.

Reports from the winter wheat belt indicated continued dry weather generally throughout the southwest with high winds in Kansas. An advance of 1-8 to 7-8 pence at Liverpool, lighter receipts at primary points and a sharp bulge in corn here late in the day were additional influences tending to strengthen the market. The July option sold between 108 1-2@1-8 and 109 1-2. September ranged between 106 1-2@5-8 and 107 1-2 and May between 113 5-8 and 114 3 8. The market closed firm with May at 114 1-8@1-4 July at 106 7-8 and September at 107.

Corn experienced some weakness early in the day. At the high point prices were 1 cent or more above the low mark. Demand for the cash grain was slow but prices were 1-2 to 1 cent higher. No. 3 yellow sold at 59 1-2@60 1-2. The May delivery ranged between 61 3-8 and 62 3-4 the market closed strong with prices up 3-4 to 1@1 1-8, May being at 62 3-4.

Trading in oats was fairly active and the market was inclined to follow other grains. Moderate weakness early in the session was followed by a decided rally which carried prices 5-8 cent to 1 1-8 cents above the low figures. The market closed strong at almost the top with prices 1-2@5-8 to 7-8 higher.

Provisions closed firm with prices unchanged to 25 cents higher. Final figures on the May products were: Pork 26.35; lard 14.07 1-2; ribs 13.90.
